

Garden Notes: Gardens open up for Horticultural Society tour

*Saturday, June 12, 2004
Pittsburgh Post-Gazette*

Twenty-two gardens scattered throughout the region will be open to the public June 20 for the Horticultural Society of Western Pennsylvania's annual garden tour.

With a theme like "Hardscapes and Softscapes," is it any wonder it's being held on Father's Day? Tickets for the self-guided tour are $30 for society members, $40 for nonmembers. Tickets include a tour booklet with descriptions and directions to each garden. Limited seating is still available for a guided bus tour, which includes lunch and costs $75.

Self-guided tour tickets are available at local businesses or by calling 412-361-8677. Call the same number for bus tickets and reservations.